Volume contents

VOLUME 2, ISSUE No. 1 April 1989

Editorial: David F. Brailsford and Richard J. Beach 1

Why Use SGML?: D. Barron 3

Parallel Processing in Document Formatting: An Experiment Using PIC: D. F. Brailsford and D. R. Evans 25

The Importance of Phase in the Spectra of Digital Type: G. Duan and R. A. Morris 47

Conference Diary 61

VOLUME 2, ISSUE No. 2 July 1989

Editorial: David F. Brailsford and Richard J. Beach 63

The Implementation of the Amsterdam SGML Parser: J. Warmer and S. Van Egmond 65

Do We Need Maps to Navigate Round Hypertext Documents?: P. J. Brown 91

Drawing Trees Nicely with TEX: A. Brüggemann-Klein and D. Wood 101

VOLUME 2, ISSUE No. 3 October 1989

Editorial: David F. Brailsford and Richard J. Beach 117

triroff, an Adaptation of the Device-independent troff for Formatting Tri-directional Text: Z. Becker and D. Berry . . . 119

VORTEXT: The Hard-backed Screen: V. A. Burrill and J. A. Ogden 143

INSCRIPT—a C-like Preprocessor for POSTSCRIPT: J. Gonczarowski and O. G. Paradise 157

Can Structured Formatters Prevent Train Crashes?: J. André . . . 169

Call for Papers 175

VOLUME 2, ISSUE No. 4 December 1989

Editorial: David F. Brailsford 177

Paragraph-based Searching in Full-text Documents: S. Al-Hawamdeh and P. Willett 179

On Integrated Bibliography Processing: M. A. Harrison and E. V. Munson 193

Automatically Transforming Regularly Structured Linear Documents into Hypertext: R. Furuta, C. Plaisant and B. Shneiderman 211

Some Computational Properties of a Model for Electronic Documents: T. J. M. Bench-Capon and P. E. Dunne 231

Author Index 257

Keyword Index 258